

NOTES AND NEWS

Redeemer Renaissance After-School Program

Friday, January 8th, 2010

Week In Review

On Monday, the Renaissance kids made paper snowflakes.

On Tuesday, they rolled and cut out crown-shaped cookies which were iced and eaten on Wednesday which was 3 Kings Day or Epiphany.

On Wednesday, the children were also given information about Epiphany and the 3 Magi. Afterward children were given an opportunity to make Three Magi stick puppets or do related coloring sheets.

On Thursday, the children made snowflakes from marshmallows and toothpicks.

On Friday, they had a "Snowball Relay."

Snow Season

Please review the Inclement Weather Policy on page 5 of your Handbook. The Handbook can be found at <http://afterschool.redeemermclean.org/handbook/Handbook.pdf>

Re-Enrollment Continues

Re-Enrollment for the 2010-2011 School Year continues until January 15th. Submitting a form on or before January 15th is the only way to secure your place in the Redeemer Renaissance Program and on the school bus for the 2010-2011 School Year. The fee for Re-Enrollment is $50. Registration forms are available at the sign-out desk and online at www.afterschool.redeemermclean.org.

Field Trip on January 29th

Thank you for your quick response regarding our visit to National Geographic to see the Terra Cotta Warriors. More information regarding the field trip will be forthcoming.

January Community Service

January 18th is Martin Luther King Day and the National Day of Service. Please consider taking time to perform community service with your families on that day. The Fairfax County Park Authority has planned 2 service events for January 18th. You can find more information about these events at <http://www.fairfaxcounty.gov/parks/press/html/pr119-09.htm>

Claude Moore Farm will also be hosting family volunteer activities on Martin Luther King Day. You can get more information at <http://volunteer.united-e-way.org/acvo/org/opp/10264930184.html> The 40 days following January 18th are the 40 Days of Peace. During that time, Redeemer Renaissance will donate the proceeds from the Peace Mug Sales to Operation Military Kids.
